THE BERET

The beret is a key item for going forward. We have seen it on the catwalks from SS17 and now from AW17 catwalks.

The beret takes on many forms and fits well into the militant trends coming through for Young Women's market with badging and an animal print, or simple floral appliqué for a softer side to the trend.

Transformed into leather or heavily beaded it feels like a French Renaissance vibe coming through.

The beret for transitional deliveries with deep ribs is a throw on accessory and a must have in collections.
