Wild West

Ship Wrecked

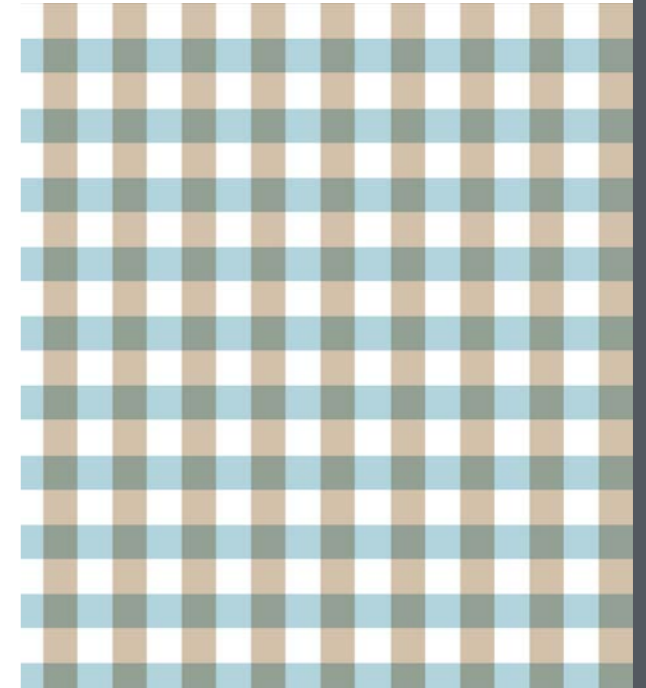

Day Dreamer

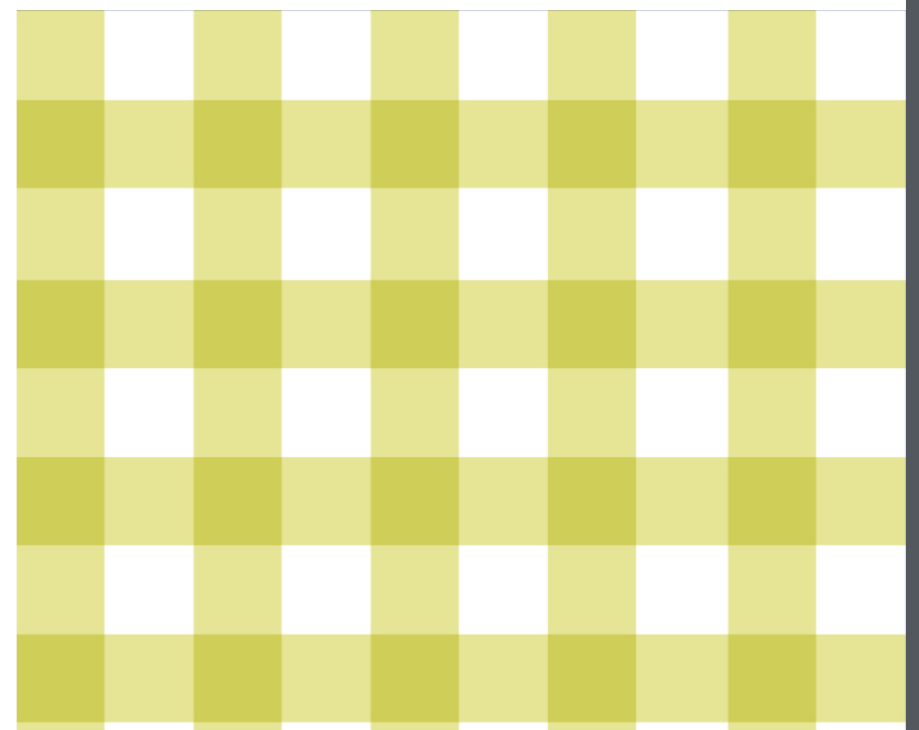

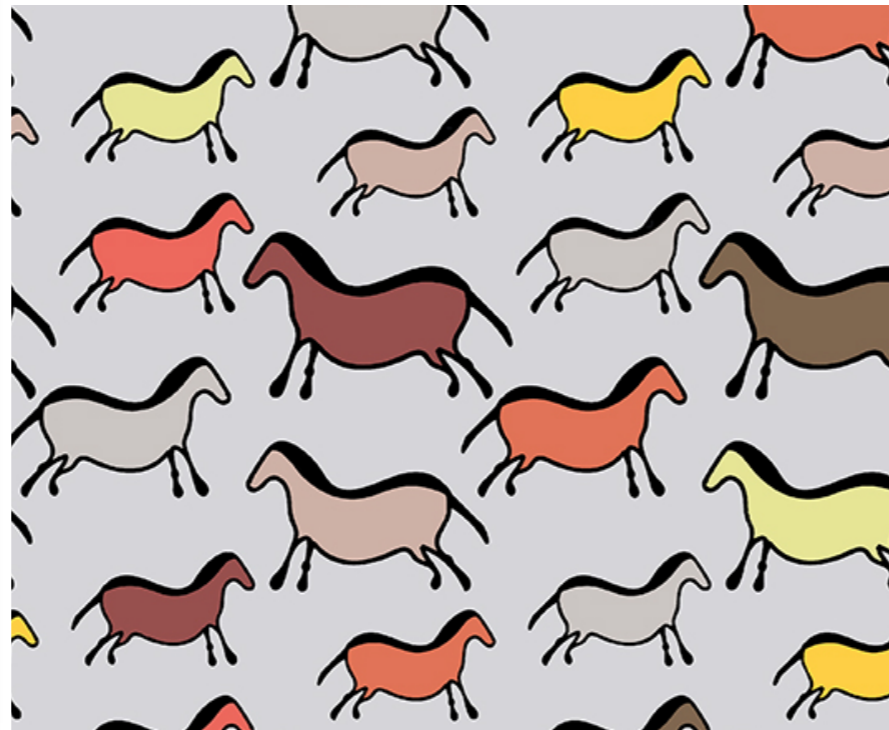

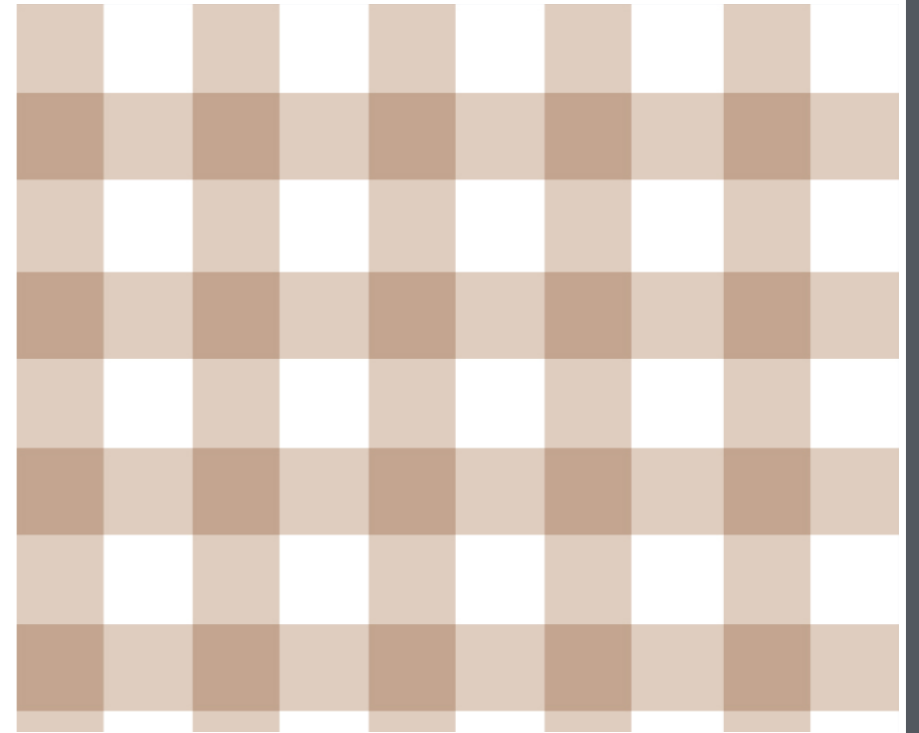

Wild west is inspired by the films of Indiana Jones and the Old Western aesthetics, Cow boys and Indians, prairie style - these influences are mixed together for a unique and modern take on the Wild West. Colours of The Old West are much more vibrant with intricate repetitive patterns in deep earth tones, reds, burnt oranges, dusty turquoise and yellow hues. Key prints- gingham, Native American motifs, plants of drylands.

Ship wrecked takes a more relaxed approach to the whole pirate trend. Inspired by sandy shores and the rustic seafarers of the past. Great for the festival season this theme is about a kids desire for dressing up. Inspired by festivals we see relaxed Boho styles in bright colours. Images of pirates and the sea, boho prints and bandanas feel fun.

Simple, functional but with an artistic tone - The Day Dreamer trend feels homespun and rustic with handmade techniques, such as embroidery and hemstitch that decorate utility styles, giving a folkloric accent. Pale colours are infused with, white and red clays, terracotta and porcelain shades feel earthy and raw. Functional styles are taken from the Scandinavian fashion, jumpsuits and dungarees are inspired by pottery classes and pagan eras.
